Sjöbergs Nordic 1450

For the dedicated woodworker, DIY enthusiast or professional, choosing the right workbench is crucial. The bench needs to be stable and hard-wearing while also offering flexibility in your work. Sjöbergs Nordic 1450 is a workbench that combines traditional craftsmanship with modern design and functionality. The bench is FSC®-certified.

The bench is equipped with two vises that can be fitted in four different positions. This means that whether you are right- or left-handed, there is a position that suits you perfectly. The flexibility continues with holdfasts that can be used in both the bench top and the underframe, giving you several options for how you secure and work with your material.

With double rows of dog holes at both the front vise and the tail vise, the bench offers even more ways to adapt it. Combine this with a range of accessories and you have a workbench that can be adapted to almost any project you take on.

4 round bench dogs 33290 are included.

Cabinet 0042 fits the Nordic 1450. The cabinet is assembled together with the bench base and cannot be used without the Nordic 1450.
